(b) Fauzia booked her flight from London to Kuala Lumpur by MAS (Malaysian Airline System) to attend 'Visit Malaysia' celebrations. She has a confirmed ticket to fly by MAS on a scheduled flight on a particular day. As the flight was over-booked, MAS could not accommodate her on the aforesaid flight. When Fauzia brought an action against MAS, the latter sought protection under the following clause printed on the ticket. 'Carrier undertakes to use its best efforts to carry the passenger and baggage with reasonable dispatch. Times shown in timetables or elsewhere are not guaranteed and form no part of this contract. Carrier may without notice substitute alternate carriers or de aircraft, and may either alter or omit stopping places shown on the ticket in case of necessity. Schedules are subject to change without notice. Carrier assumes no responsibility for making connections.' Discuss.

QUESTION 2

Kylie operates a successful water bottle business. Kylie operates as a sole trader. She decides to sell a greater variety of bottled water. After examining different brochures, she discovers 'Dave's Bottled Mineral Water Supply'. The owner of the business is David. Kylie tells David that she is interested in expanding her business by selling mineral water. David tells Kylie that he has a large selection of mineral water. David shows Kylie a brochure of all the different kinds of mineral water he has for sale. The brochure shows that the mineral water comes from a mountain creek. Kylie asks David whether he has some mineral water for her to try. David hands over a bottle from the shelf and asks her to taste it. Kylie drinks the water and says it tastes better than plain water. Kylie decided to buy a one-year supply to sell to her customers. She purchases 35,000 bottles for a total cost of RM35,000. After selling 1,000 bottles of mineral water in the first two weeks, Kylie discovers that some of her customers complain about stomach pains, vomiting and diarrhoea. Kylie sends a bottle of mineral water to a scientific laboratory. The lab discovers that the mineral water contains a virus undetectable to the naked eye.

Advise Kylie of her statutory rights against David under the Sale of Goods Act 1957.
